

BATTLE RAGING ON MEXICAN BORDER

Seven Mexicans Killed in Fight With Texas Rangers, Who Are First Fired Upon.

FEAR OF TROUBLE SPREADING CAUSES GREAT ALARM ON BORDER

Forty Carranza Soldiers Started Trouble By Opening Fire Across Rio Grande—More Mexican Bandits Killed—Carranza Consul Claims Firing on Aeroplane Not Done by Carranza Troops but by Others Desiring to "Start Something."

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, September 4.—Seven Mexicans were killed in a battle this afternoon, between Texas rangers, on the American side, and Mexicans believed to be Carranza soldiers, on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, near Old Hidalgo, Texas. The battle was still being waged at 2 o'clock. There are said to have been forty Mexicans in the original party. They fired across the Rio Grande this morning. No one on the American side had been killed when the last report was received here.

Brownsville, Texas, September 4.—Forty Carranza soldiers today fired across the Rio Grande on an American ranchman named Drew, near Old Hidalgo, Texas. They also fired on a party of Texas rangers near the same place. All available cavalry is being rushed to the scene. Today's firing occurred at the same place where a party of Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande and looted several stores. A correspondent with the border troops telegraphed today: "A posse of citizens, in approaching a small native house at the Aguas Negras ranch, shot and killed two Mexicans who ran and refused to halt. "A young daughter of a Mexican also was killed, accidentally, by a straybullet, and her mother fatally wounded." J. Z. Garza, Carranza consul, today declared the firing on an American aeroplane yesterday was done by enemies of Carranza, who sought to bring about trouble with the United States. Two bombs, filled with scrap iron and left behind by Mexican bandits, were found today by United States troops. Washington, September 4.—State Department officials said today they had no advices to confirm current reports that Mexican troops are concentrating along the border in northeast Mexico although the situation is regarded with increasing anxiety.

By Associated Press. Washington, September 4.—Two hundred people, including many women and children, were killed in a train wreck several days ago, 200 miles east of Mexico City. Canton, O., September 4.—A high powered automobile, speeding to overtake another machine, left the paved road at "Death Corner," a hair-pin curve ten miles east of Canton, and overturned early today, seriously injuring three occupants of the car and probably fatally injuring two others. The injured are William Shaffer, aged 19, probably fatally injured; Eugene Owen, 25, Indiana Harbor, Ind., probably fatally injured; Elton Potts, 18, Thelma Potts, 16 and Edna Holwick, aged 17, of Newark, N. J.

By Associated Press. San Francisco, September 4.—Five young girls were burned to death here today, when fire destroyed the St. Francis Girls' Directory, a Catholic orphanage. Three were burned beyond recognition. Fifty-two children and several blind and aged women were housed in the four story frame building. Only the heroism of the nuns prevented greater loss of life.

MILLION OHIO PUPILS WILL ATTEND SCHOOL

31,000 Teachers Required to Instruct Ohio's Boys and Girls Who Will Answer Call of School Bell Next Week—95,000 High School Students in State—Annual Expenditure for Schools in Ohio Reaches $56,000,000.

By Associated Press. Columbus, O., September 4.—Nearly a million boys and girls will mobilize in Ohio next week when school bells sound the end of the summer vacation and the beginning of a nine months' campaign against the citadel of Education. Practically all city schools and three fourths of village and rural schools will open then. One out of every seven of the population will trudge off to the rooms where books and chalk hold sway. Ohio's army will be only a small percent of the entire school-going youth of the country, for about 19,000,000 were enrolled last year in schools of the United States. H. B. Swygert, statistician of the state department of public instruction, estimates that 932,000 children will attend public schools in Ohio during the coming year, and 31,000 teachers will be required to instruct them. About 837,000 will be in the elementary schools, with 26,000 teachers over them, and 95,000 will be high school students, requiring 5,000 teachers. Three fourths of the teachers are women and one fourth men. In addition to the army corps of Ohio youth who go forth to battle with books, there is a goodly-sized division of school age below 21, who are at work earning wages. For Ohio's enumerated school population this year is estimated at 1,320,000, of whom 400,000 either have been graduated from high school, or are past the ages at which schooling is compulsory—16 for girls and 15 for boys. For each of these 1,320,000, the state government will pay to local boards of education $2 to be used in maintaining schools. That is the state's system of material encouragement of the cause of education in Ohio. Reading, writing and arithmetic, with the addition of spelling are still the standard courses for school children, for records compiled by Statistician Swygert show 750,000 were enrolled in each of these studies last year; 450,000 took geography, 112,000 agriculture, 47,000 German, 44,000 Latin, 35,000 French, 32,000 manual training and 30,000 domestic science. Boards of education in Ohio last year spent $26,000,000 for maintenance of public schools, nearly half of which, or $17,833,000 was for pay of teachers. There were 12,630 school buildings in operation last year, but owing to the recent centralization movement, the number this year will be less. About 1,000 are high schools and the other elementary.

GERMANS MAKE NOTABLE GAINS

Latest Success on Road to Riga and Military Experts Claim the Invaders Will Soon Intrench for the Winter—Peace Rumors Continue to Hold Center of War Stage—Great Artillery Duel Continues in West—Serbia Will Soon File Final Answer.

By Associated Press. London, September 4.—German troops, fighting toward the Russian port of Riga, have won a notable victory in the capture of the bridgehead at Friedrichstadt, on the river Dvina about 40 miles from Riga, German army headquarters announced today. In taking the Friedrichstadt position, the Germans captured more than 3,300 prisoners, including 37 officers. All the forts of Grodno are now in possession of the Germans, and the Russians are retreating eastward. Germans captured six heavy guns and took 2,700 men prisoners. Petrograd military observers believe the Germans aim to take possession of the Riga-Dvinsk railway line, capture Vilna and the fortress of Rovno, far to the south, and then entrench for the winter. London, September 4.—In the absence of marked changes on any of the battle fronts, the English public has again turned its attention to the diplomatic situation in the near east, and to rumors of tentative efforts in the direction of peace negotiations. It is announced officially in Nish, that the final draft of Serbia's answer to the quadruple entente's note will be presented shortly. It is presumed here that the reply will be favorable in regard to concessions to Bulgaria, although Serbia is not expected to grant all the territory demanded in Macedonia. Advice from Sofia indicate that unless the whole of Macedonia is ceded, there is little chance of re-establishment of the Balkan league. It is pointed out that compliance with the program of the entente allies means actual participation in the war, while agreement to the request of the central powers implies mere friendly neutrality. Although it has been established rather definitely that London has no part in the initiation of informal peace discussion, official circles are interested keenly in news of activity in this direction. The Russians are fighting desperately along the Dvina, protecting the shortest road to Petrograd. French artillery is still pounding the German trenches along the western front.

AIM TO CROSS DVINA RIVER

Capture of Grodno by the Teutons

Other Fronts.

London, Sept. 4.—The fortified bridgehead at Lennawada, on the Dvina river, between Friedrichstadt and Riga, has been captured by the Germans. So states the official report issued at Berlin. This is considered for the Russians the most critical point on their whole front, for should the Germans succeed in crossing the Dvina, the Russians would be compelled to evacuate Riga, and their position between the Dvina and Vilna and even southwest of the latter city, would be jeopardized.

Military critics here believe that the Russians will make a stubborn defense on the Dvina, the opinion being expressed that should they fall here the German fleet would gain command of the Gulf of Riga and by landing troops at Pernau would considerably shorten the protracted march to Petrograd, which is understood to be the ultimate object of the German higher command.

sage to Ambassador Page at London instructing him to renew at the foreign office his request for specific information as to conditions under which the British authorities will permit deliveries of goods of German origin now lying on the docks at Rotterdam and other neutral ports. This is the second message of this character sent to Ambassador Page within a short time, his first appeal to the British foreign office having brought no satisfactory response.

The specific point on which the state department is now seeking information of Great Britain is as to how the application of American importers for releases for goods should be presented. It is desired to learn particularly whether the British embassy will receive such applications presented through the unofficial aid of the foreign trade advisers of the state department.

CONTROL OF LOANS PLANNED

New Regulations Issued Concerning Commodity Paper.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The federal reserve board disclosed an extraordinary scheme for controlling the loans from the $30,000,000 of government deposits in gold which Secretary Mc-Adoo has announced he will place in the federal reserve banks of the south to assure adequate credits for the cotton planters.

The board's plan is embodied in new regulations regarding "commodity paper" and trade acceptances, which admit the two kinds of paper to rediscount by the federal reserve banks at lower rates of interest with the waiver of certain specific requirements which are applicable to transactions in any other sort of paper.
The term "commodity paper" plan is so defined by the new regulations as to apply to warehouse receipts for cotton. The new regulations exclude from the definition paper on which the rate of interest or discount, including commission charged the original maker, exceeds 6 per cent.

The $30,000,000 will be deposited in three federal reserve banks, located at Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas.

AT THE FAIR

Columbus, Sept. 4.—With an attendance almost 50 per cent greater than last year, the cash gate receipts for the 1915 state fair, so far as these come from admissions to the ground, are less than they were in 1914, according to preliminary figures prepared by I. S. Myers, treasurer of the state board of agriculture. The gate receipts this year were $48,624.75. Mr.
Myers explains the difference by saying that an unusually large number of persons went to the fair grounds in the evening this year. After 5 o'clock admission was only 25 cents, thus cutting the receipts in half. To the gate receipts given above must be added receipts from grand stand and concessions, which have not been compiled.

PROSPECT FOR PEACE IS WANING

London, Sept. 4.—From authoritative sources in the British government it is learned that there is no change in the attitude of the government on the question of peace.

Arms were taken up by Great Britain, it is explained, for the purely defensive purpose defined by Premier Asquith on Nov. 9, and no change has been made in the British policy. To prevent misconception it must be definitely understood that Great Britain will not entertain any idea of a separate peace, and that anything which she does in the direction of peace must be done in concert with her allies, with whom the reciprocal confidence is growing stronger every day.

The statement issued by the German embassy in Washington to the effect that Germany is ready to make peace on the terms of freedom for Poland, freedom of the seas and freedom of the Jews sounds peculiar in British ears. Nothing is said about the freedom of France and Belgium.

The reports spread by Germany regarding the possibility of a separate peace with Russia has only added to the determination of the Russian people to fight until the enemy is defeated.

POPE OFFERS PRES. WILSON CHURCH HELP

Rome, Sept. 4.—Pope Benedict has indicated that if President Wilson will undertake the task of ending the great war he will have the support of the pontiff and the whole Catholic church. The pope expressed pleasure over the fact that the diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Germany had resulted in a promise from Germany to modify her submarine warfare. The pontiff said that President Wilson, having shown both groups of belligerents the fairness of the American government, could now address them with authority and probably induce them to take the preliminary steps which would gradually lead to negotiations for peace.

The pontiff was gratified to learn of the cordiality that marked the conversation between President Wilson and Cardinal Gibbons when the cardinal delivered to the president in Washington a message from Benedict
XV. dealing with peace.
His holiness said he hoped everybody, both in Europe and the United States, would be convinced that his constant prayer is for the ending of the war and that his work in this direction is entirely disinterested, being inspired only by the teachings of Christ and his love for humanity.

on bond of $12,500. Hornung is alleged to have defaulted with $50,000 to $80,- told Indianapolis officials that he lost the money by speculating in western oil stocks. He was instructed by Judge Sater to appear in court Dec. 7, when the federal grand jury con-

Parents and School Days

School begins Monday.

That's the usual announcement at this time of the year and it causes children to realize that the end of vacation is here. It is the excuse for giving a great deal of sound advice to children as to their duties and their "priceless privileges" and the like which is all well intended and does no harm even if frequent annual repetition does no good, save to those who hear it and read it for the first time.

There is no great probability that the school children will forget their duties or fail to realize that school has in fact begun and that vacation is ended.

To donate a little bit of advice to the parents of the youngsters, however, and the duties they must assume with the beginning of school, is somewhat out of the ordinary and, right at this particular time in Washington, might be productive of some real good.

In the first place the vacation, now so near a close, has been a busy one in this city for the young boys and girls just entering upon their last years of school.

They have visited with and been visited by their young friends residing in other cities and towns and that splendid social life, so potent an influence in refining and broadening the growing young men and women, has been at high tide this summer.

From next Monday morning on through the whole school term, week days and evenings should be devoted to study and parents should see to it that social affairs are made secondary to school duties.

Girls and boys cannot take hours which should be devoted to study and appropriate them for social enjoyment without losing out in school, and parents should see to it that they do not tempt them to do so. They should put social affairs under the ban, make the home a place for study and maintain everything in harmony with that purpose.

If the parents of one girl permit social gatherings at the home during school week other parents cannot expect their children to pleasantly refuse an invitation to attend and deny themselves the pleasure which its acceptance insures. Parents should be thoughtful of their own and their neighbor's children and not place temptation in their way.

The mothers are the rulers of the home and they should co-operate in the task of making the social life of the community, so far as it effects the boys and girls in school, harmonize with the demand for duty and school work.

It is far better, too, that this important change be inaugurated Monday with the opening of school.

Better to do it then than to wait until the distracting influence of outside attractions has interfered with school work.

The early days of the school term are the most important. In those days of the term the habits which control are formed.

It isn't fair, it isn't just to place the whole burden on the children. Parents should help them get down to work and stay at work at least to the extent of refusing to tempt them away from their studies.

The State Fair

The great State Fair came to a close Friday evening. It was remarkable for many reasons.

In point of attendance it was the biggest fair Ohio has ever held. It was remarkable too, in that the attendance and exhibits marked a revival of interest in the exhibitions which have so long held popular favor. The new conditions under which the people are living and working in Ohio were very much in evidence.

While the railroads carried thousands of people to the capital city, the great majority of those who attended traveled from their homes directly to the fair grounds by automobile. By so doing the burden of handling the crowd which has heretofore fallen upon steam railroads and street car lines was relieved to such an extent that regular travel was but little interfered with.

Trains were arriving and departing from Columbus almost on schedule time. There was an entire absence of the unwieldy crowds in the depot. It was possible to ride to and from the fair grounds in comfort on the street cars and yet the attendance was the largest ever recorded.

On the fair grounds the horses and carriages, so prominent a feature in other days, were absent, but there were acres—positively acres—of automobiles on the fair grounds. So great was the number of motor-propelled vehicles on the grounds and in the nearby lots that a blockade was threatened, until officials learned how to handle the puffing thousands.

People passed right through or around Columbus—straight from home to the state fair grounds without change or delay, as a rule.

The fair was lucky in having one of the few, if not the only, week of good weather of the summer.

The almost entire absence of the drunk, the tough and the gambler, was another one of the remarkable features.

The success of the State Fair this year means a great deal. It means that the good old fair is going to remain a popular favorite and with new means of travel and under new conditions the people are now turning again in paying numbers to the farmers big show.

Poetry For Today

THE SUBMARINE.

Far down where slimy sea things glide
Through spaces dim and still
I lurk beneath the racing tide
To work the master's will.

Unheard, unseen, my web I weave
And stretch across the path
Where the doomed liners blindly brave
The menace of my wrath.

Far out, a smoke plume stains the sky
Against the lurid west,
And marks the quarry drawing nigh
The death beneath the crest.

A rip of foam, a muffled roar,
The shrieks of those that die,
And down upon the ocean's floor
The dead unnumbered lie.

I know not pity, shame nor ruth,
Unmarked, my way I keep
Along with monstrous shapes uncouth;
The felon of the deep.

Beatrice—You should never permit a young man to use your powder rag after a dance, my dear. You might get pimples or the pip or something. If he is perspiring let him use his handkerchief.

Corn Fed—The only way to prevent Jacob's ladders from forming in your stockings is to have the stockings made out of leather.

Working Girl—You claim that you permitted a "young man to examine your pay envelope, containing $6, and that when he returned it to you it contained but $5, and you ask what you should have done under the circumstances. Well, your first move should have been to rap him in the bugle and then yell for a policeman. A dollar is a dollar these days.

Gladys—Sandpaper your elbows every night, my dear, and if you have luck they will be white by fall.

Marie—It is not advisable for a young girl to take auto trips with young men, my dear. You may have to walk back, and the roads are in bad shape this time of year.

Poor Fathead!

Tom Fathead was a big galoot. He trained his wife to be real brave; One day he taught her how to shoot, And now he's dead and in his grave.

Huh!

"What is your favorite illustrated paper?" asked the old fogey.
"A twenty dollar bill," replied the grouch.

Right Back at Us, by Heck!

Dear Luke:
Oh, Luke McLuke, you tried to rap. But Foster's Crossing is on the map! Why, sure, you'll find us going straight To the hay when we hear the clock strike eight.
And back on the job we are once more Next morning when the clock strikes four.
—B. A. M., Foster's Crossing, O.

Ain't It Queer!

Our debts are the funniest Things in the land. The more they're contracted The more they expand.

Well, Well!

Dear Luke—Did you know that Ima Fox and A. Trapp are neighbors in this city?—Hamilton, O.

Luke McLuke Says

When a man has cramps in his stomach and a boil on the back of his neck he thinks he knows something about discomfort. But he will never be able to realize how a fat woman feels when she is wearing a straight front corset and sitting in a rocking chair.

A woman may forget the vows she made at the altar, but she never forgets to jack her husband up about the vows he made in his love letters.

When a corn fed girl smiles at a man he always forgets that he is carrying his wife's picture in his watch case.

The girl who is always advertising her modesty is always wondering why she never has any bidders.

When a man stands around and brags that he is the boss in his house you can bet that when he is at home he has to go down into the cellar when he wants to chew tobacco and go out in the back yard when he wants to smoke.

Every wife tells every husband what a model husband the man next door is. But when every husband meets the man next door downtown some day he discovers that the man next door is just as ornery as the rest of the husbands.

And it often happens that the woman who has twelve buttons on her kid gloves has a husband who has to hold up his pants with a safety pin.

The average woman gets mighty few roses between the day she is married and the day she is laid out.

It isn't what a woman knows that worries her; it is what she would like to know.

Habit is great stuff. The girl who is wearing a skirt that only comes a little below her knees will grab it and hoist it when she comes to a muddy crossing.

A man will permit his appetite to outgrow his income and then blame it on the high cost of living.

After you have roamed around the world for awhile you will discover that the people who have least to complain about do most of the kicking.

ISLAND OF CYPRUS.

Once Famed For Its Forests, It Has Had a Stirring History.

Cyprus is an island in the Mediterranean which has figured largely in the history of Europe. Famed in antiquity for its forests, today, except for the pine woods on the summits of its historic mountain, it is largely bare and treeless. From Egypt came monarchs to find timber for their fleets, and from Athens and Rome men to work its rich copper mines. The Apostle Paul visited Cyprus in his first great missionary journey, and Mark went there later with Barnabas.

At the division of the Roman empire Cyprus went to the Byzantine emperors. In the twelfth century England took the island and sold it to the Knights Templars, who in turn sold it to the king of Jerusalem. In 1570 the Turks sent 60,000 men against Cyprus. Nicosia, its capital, was taken after a forty-five day siege, and 20,000 people were put to the sword. In 1878 England and Turkey entered into an agreement whereby Turkey retained sovereignty over the island, while England took charge of its administration.

Cyprus is 148 miles long, from forty to fifty miles wide and is about 3,000 square miles in area, with a fertile plain separating northern and southern mountain ranges. The island produces copper, gold, silver, asbestos, gypsum, red jasper, cotton, wheat, barley, tobacco, silk and fruits. Wine is its best known product. The water supply is meager, but the climate is healthy.—National Geographic Society's Bulletin.

MILITARY STRATEGY.

Why More Is Gained by Wounding Than by Killing an Enemy.

In a letter to the Army and Navy Journal a retired army officer says that no intelligent soldier will fire a dum-dum or an explosive bullet at the enemy, for they both kill.

The object of the rifleman is not to kill an enemy, but to wound him. "A dead man is simply one soldier lost from his army. He is not a burden to any one. A wounded soldier must be taken care of. Four wounded soldiers must have an ambulance with two horses and an able-bodied soldier driver.

"Thirty wounded soldiers must have a surgeon, a hospital steward and ten or a dozen able-bodied soldiers to aid the doctor and wait upon and nurse the wounded men. The ambulances block the roads and delay the troops, especially the artillery and the supply wagons.

"When a man is hurt every one is anxious to get him at once to a doctor. If the troops on the firing line are not well disciplined and a soldier is wounded there will be three or four soldiers who are willing and anxious to carry him to the rear.

"For every soldier wounded the firing line loses four soldiers, and a hundred men wounded means that 400 men are lost to the firing line, for they never rejoin their regiments until the battle is over."

His Bad Handwriting.

Dean Farrar in his "Reminiscences" says that the first proofs of Dean Stanley's "Sinai and Palestine" informed the reader that from the monastery of Sinai was visible "the horn of the burning bush." This was a fearfully apocalyptic nightmare of the printer's devil for "the horizon of the burning bush." The original proof sheets also stated that on turning the shoulder of Mount Olivet in the walk from Beth any "there suddenly burst upon the spectator a magnificent view of—Jones!" In this startling sentence "Jones" was the transmutation of "Jerusalem," the dean's abbreviated way of writing "Jerusalem." When the dean answered an invitation to dinner his hostess has been known to write back and inquire whether his note was an acceptance or a refusal.

WHAT FAYETTE EQUINES ACCOMPLISHED AT FAIR

Throughout the State Fair Fayette county had her winnings and was even called upon to furnish the talent which carried to remarkably successful completion the first evening horse show inaugurated by the management.

It was the biggest horse show in point of attendance ever held in the United States. Eleven thousand tickets were sold at one session and gates had to be locked to keep out the crowd.

And it was freely admitted that much of the success of the show, especially in the smoothness and rapidity with which events moved off was due to the Horse Show Superintendent, Mr. Howard C. Allen, of this city.

Mr. Allen was engaged as superintendent for the 1916 show immediately at the close of the 1915 one.

and plans are already on foot to make the next year's show an affair of national interest, with entries from leading stables all over the country.

Winners in Futurity.
The Eastern Futurity Percheron horse exhibit of Thursday was the feature of the whole draft show—experienced horsemen pronounced it the most wonderful display of the kind they had ever seen in the East and it was an especially high honor to win any position among its 41 exceptional entries.

Hence it was doubly gratifying to Fayette that James Brothers, of Jeffersonville, with Ormate, their splendid yearling Percheron colt, and string of seven Percherons, were in the winning division and placed sixth in the final lineup.

Prof. Marshall Willis, of Washington, D. C., did the judging.

NEW COUNTY TREASURER TAKES OFFICE MONDAY

Monday of the coming week Mr. R. S. Quinn, who for four years has so efficiently discharged the duties of Treasurer of Fayette County, will surrender the office to Mr. A. W. Duff, the new treasurer-elect, who has been Mr. Quinn's deputy in the office for the past four years and who like Mr. Quinn, has made a host of friends by the courteous treatment accorded to the public in general.

Mr. Duff is a former resident of Jeffersonville, where he was engaged in the mercantile business for a number of years, and is highly qualified for the work with which he has

St. Charles, Ill. Mr. Crane was not at home at the time, being with his show stable at the Rochester N. Y. show.

The loss on buildings and contents will reach $150,000. An added element of mystery is the fact that several attempts have been made recently to start fires, and it is rumored that this may be the work of spies in retaliation for the activity in furnishing remounts for the Allies, displayed by Mr. Crane.

Mr. Crane will be remembered as having attended the last spring's Horse Show at this place, where he drove the tandem of Miss Jane Merkle. He also purchased several horses in the sale following.

LOCAL INTEREST IN BIG SHOW

Mr. Howard C. Allen left Saturday evening for Detroit, Mich., to represent The Detroit Free Press; The Breeders' Gazette; Rider and Driver (New York); The Spur (New York); and The Chronicle, (Lexington Ky.) at the second Michigan State Fair.

Mr. Allen will take care of the press work of both the show classes and the horse show for all of these papers and also act as judge of the Hackney Breeding classes.

All the James string of Percherons and the Hagler prize winning Belgians will be shown in this show, in charge of Mr. Fred Jones. Mr. Tom Jones and Mr. Roy Hagler also expect to attend the fair.

In the horse show, Pocklington Protector will be shown by Mitchell of Columbus.

Mr. Frank Myers of this city is now in charge of Miss Jessie Merkle's show stable, which will be well represented at the fair.

The Merkle stable now includes a number of new horses and vehicles sold at the disposal sale of the late Alfred Vanderbilt stables.

STARVED INTO GOODNESS.

Why Crime is Rare Among the Caribs of South America.

In the whole wide world there is not a class of people to be found who inflict severer punishment upon themselves than the Caribs of Central America.

Their religion, which is one of the most peculiar kind, demands self punishment for sins intentionally or unintentionally committed. The punishment takes the form of starvation and close confinement.

If the sin be in the form of a lie, no matter whether it is calculated to injure another or not, the sinner goes without either food or drink for three days, at the end of which it is believed that the offender has paid the penalty for his or her sin. Blaspheming and using bad language are punishable by absolute starvation for two days. Assault, drunkenness and other serious sins call for four days' starvation for one week, three days' starvation for the second week, two days' starvation for the third week and one day's starvation in the fourth week.

All sins are punished with starvation. For that reason crime is very low among the Caribs, who are among the best behaved and most truthful people in the world. — London Telegraph.

Fear of Premature Burial.

The fear of premature burial, which prompted the late Lord Burton to direct by his will that his heart should be removed from his body, has caused many well known men and women to order a surgical operation to be performed upon their bodies. Harriet Martineau left her doctor £10 to amputate her head, and Lady Burton directed that her heart should be pierced with a needle. The late Edmund Yates left instructions that his jugular vein should be severed, with a provision that a fee of 20 guineas should be paid for the purpose. Literary persons appear to have been particularly afraid of premature burial. Bishop Berkeley, Lord Lytton, Hans Andersen and Wilkie Collins all took measures to protect themselves from it. — Westminster Gazette

Magazines on Warships.

If there is one danger that sailors dread more than any other it is an explosion in the powder magazine. To prevent such an occurrence a device for flooding that compartment in the least possible time is fitted to most big battleships. A pipe below the surface connects the magazine with the sea. This pipe is closed by two taps, which are connected with the deck. In case of danger it is only the work of a minute to open the taps, let the sea rush in through the pipes and flood the magazine. The water is afterward drained off by means of a gutter. — London Mail.

In Social Circles

An extremely pretty and delightful affair of Friday afternoon was that given by Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock and Mrs. Maude Howland in honor of Mrs. Fred Sprenger of Marion, Ill. The twenty guests were confined to the special friends of Mrs. Sprenger's former residence in this city.

A profusion of asters, marigolds and hydrangeas were in graceful arrangement throughout the rooms, their beauty enjoyed by the guests as they visited over their fancy work. A dainty repast was served.

An enjoyable dinner of five covers was given by Paul Strevey, Friday evening in compliment to Edwards Hopkins, who enters Oberlin college the middle of the month, and Ralph Strobel, who goes to Columbus to take his course at the Ohio State university.

Messrs Renick Allen and Harold Elliott were also guests.

Scarlet dahlias decked the table and an elaborate four-course dinner was served.

Mrs. C. W. Strevey assisted her son in the hospitalities.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. CLEMANS

Mrs. Clara Clark Clemans, wife of the Rev. F. M. Clemans, answered the eternal summons at her home on Washington avenue, Friday night at ten o'clock, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Clemans' death touches a large circle of family connection and friends. She was the daughter of the late Smith Chaffin—the Chaffin family having been prominently identified with the New Holland community since the early days, and Mrs. Clemans' own place, "Guyholme," being a part of an original land grant, handed down from Chaffin to Chaffin for the past hundred years. This tract of land is probably the only piece of land in Fayette county which has never been on the market.

Mrs. Clemans always retained her residence there until she moved to her bungalow in this city during the past year.

Never strong, for the past two years, Mrs. Clemans' health has been precarious, although her indomitable courage never flagged.

She possessed a remarkably bright mind and marked business ability. A great reader and having had unusual advantages in both education and travel, Mrs. Clemans developed rare conversational powers.

Especially was she interested in Ohio Wesleyan University, in which university she endowed a chair in memory of her son, Guy Clark.

Dr. Welsh, president of O. W. U., comes over from Delaware Monday to conduct, with Rev. F. E. Ross, the funeral services, held Monday afternoon, at one o'clock at the residence.

The interment will be made in the New Holland cemetery.

The Board of Control has let the contract for paving Leesburg avenue to Heffner & Son, who have the West Court street and Washington avenue jobs of paving. The firm was the only bidder on the street, but their bid was lower than some of the other paving contracts awarded in this city.

While the contract has been let to Heffner & Son, the Board has not yet decided whether Athens or Nelsonville brick will be used, the bid including the Nelsonville brick is $1.69 and the bid with Athens brick is $1.67.

PEACE APPEAL IS AN OFFICIAL PLEA

General Carranza So Informed By Secretary Lansing.

MESSAGE SENT TO VERA CRUZ

Another Meeting of the Pan-American Conference Will Be Called in the Near Future to Take Up the Mexican Problem — President Wilson Commends Services of the Brazilian Minister.

Washington, Sept. 4. — Secretary Lansing has formally notified General Carranza that the signers of the appeal for peace in Mexico sent by the Pan-American conference affixed their names to the document in their official capacities as representatives of their governments. The message did not go beyond this direct answer to the inquiry made by General Carranza after he received the appeal.

State department officials said they did not know what effect, if any, the answer would have on General Carranza's reply to the appeal, which has not yet been received.

It is understood that another meeting of the Pan-American conference will be called soon, but it was authoritatively stated that no date had yet been set. In the appeal sent three weeks ago it was suggested that ten days would be considered by the conference a reasonable time in which answers might be prepared by those who received it.

President Wilson sent the following telegram to the president of Brazil, commending the services rendered to the United States government by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City:

"As Senhor Don J. M. Cardoso de Oliveira, Brazilian minister to Mexico, is about to depart from the United States for Brazil, I avail myself of the occasion to express to your excellency the grateful acknowledgment of myself and the people of the United States for the friendship shown and the services rendered by your excellency's government in permitting Senhor Cardoso to take upon himself in most trying circumstances the exacting duty of representing American interests in Mexico. I cordially appreciate the efficient and whole-hearted manner in which Senhor Cardoso has served our country and I congratulate Brazil in having in her diplomatic service a representative of such eminent fitness and so agreeable a personality."

her commissioners shall reach New York and consummate negotiations looking toward the flotation of a much larger credit loan here.

There was no confirmation or denial of this report by the big men of New York's financial world. Most of them refused positively to discuss it, and the few who did, said that there was nothing in the way of an announcement that could be made at this time.

According to the report, the collateral on which this preliminary loan was issued was brought to New York in four lots and aggregated the approximate figures of the sum borrowed. Two of the shipments of collateral, totalling about $55,000,000, were brought from Great Britain to Halifax aboard British men-of-war, and shipped thence to New York with about $40,000,000 in gold within the past thirty days. The two other bundles of securities were said to have been brought here aboard the liners Adriatic and St. Paul, which reached New York.

GODOWSKI IS MISSING

New York, Sept. 4.—Leopold Godowski, the Polish pianist of international fame, has been missing from his home at Avon, N. J., since Wednesday. Fearful that he may have fallen a victim of thugs, Mme. Godowski, his wife, asked the police to search for him. He had $1,000 in cash and hundreds of dollars' worth of jewelry in his possession when he disappeared. The famous composer's movements after he left his family at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning have been traced up to 6 in the evening. At that hour he was hurrying to catch a train home, but whatever evil befell him overtook him before he had time to reach the station.

MIDGET DEAD AT 106 YEARS

New York, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Jeanette Schwartz, 106, who weighed less than twenty-five pounds and was only two and a half feet tall, is dead at the Brooklyn Hebrew home for the aged. She was born in Germany. On May 20 her birthday anniversary was celebrated at the home by a party, at which she gave a recitation and was helped to her feet by the manager and a nurse while she did a few dance steps. Of recent years she had often awakened during the night and asked for a glass of beer.

IRONING OUT THE TROUBLE

Washington Sept. 4. — The conviction that the submarine issue with Germany is very near a complete adjustment was strengthened here with the receipt of unofficial reports from Berlin that Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will be given broad discretionary powers in dealing with the United States on this subject. Though the ambassador himself,

It is understood, has not yet received his instructions, the word from Berlin is regarded as authoritative.

In view of the fact that the ambassador has for a long time been in favor of conceding much if not all of the proposals of the United States as a matter of good sense if for no other reason, officials here feel that a satisfactory outcome is assured if he is given liberal authorization by Berlin in negotiating with the United States. The press dispatches from Berlin seem, in the opinion of close observers here, to indicate clearly that the Berlin government has undergone a complete change of attitude on the submarine question.

SEEK FRAUDS IN PETITIONS

Columbus, Sept. 4. — Validity of every signature on the referendum petition filed with the secretary of state against the McDermott liquor license law will have been determined before the proposition is submitted to the voters in November. This course was decided upon by Governor Willis, to ascertain whether or not there has been fraud practiced, as was proven in the 1913 referendums. The petitions were sent back to the local county election boards. They will be verified. This is required by a law enacted last spring.

BLANK BALLOTS IN THIS TOWN

St. Marys, O., Sept. 4. — Voters in the village of Port Laramie failed to respond to a fire alarm, sounded for the purpose of assembling a mass convention to name a ticket for mayor and other village officers. The time for making nominations having expired, voters will be compelled to write the names of whomsoever they please on the blank ballots on election day.

RECOVER BODY OF ONE OHIOAN

Honolulu, Sept. 4. — Ten more bodies were found in the hull of the United States submarine F-4. They were crowded together in the engine room, where a hole was cut through the steel plates to effect an entrance. One body was identified as that of Ivan L. Mañan, machinist's mate, of Lima, O.

FIRST WIFE DEAD

Baltimore, Sept. 4.—That the first wife of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, murdered near Providence, R. I., was a Baltimore woman and that she is now dead, was asserted by Mrs. C. Manning Mohr, wife of the slain physician's son. Young Mrs. Mohr said the maiden name of the first Mrs. Mohr was Josephine L. Hastry. She was a Baltimore girl, while the doctor hailed from Burk county, Pennsylvania. They were married here in 1890.

British Transport Sunk?

Berlin, Sept. 4. — A telegram from Sofia states that a British transport struck a mine off the entrance to the Dardanelles and sank with 320 officers, 1,250 soldiers and 300 members of the crew all of whom were drowned. Six hundred bodies were recovered.

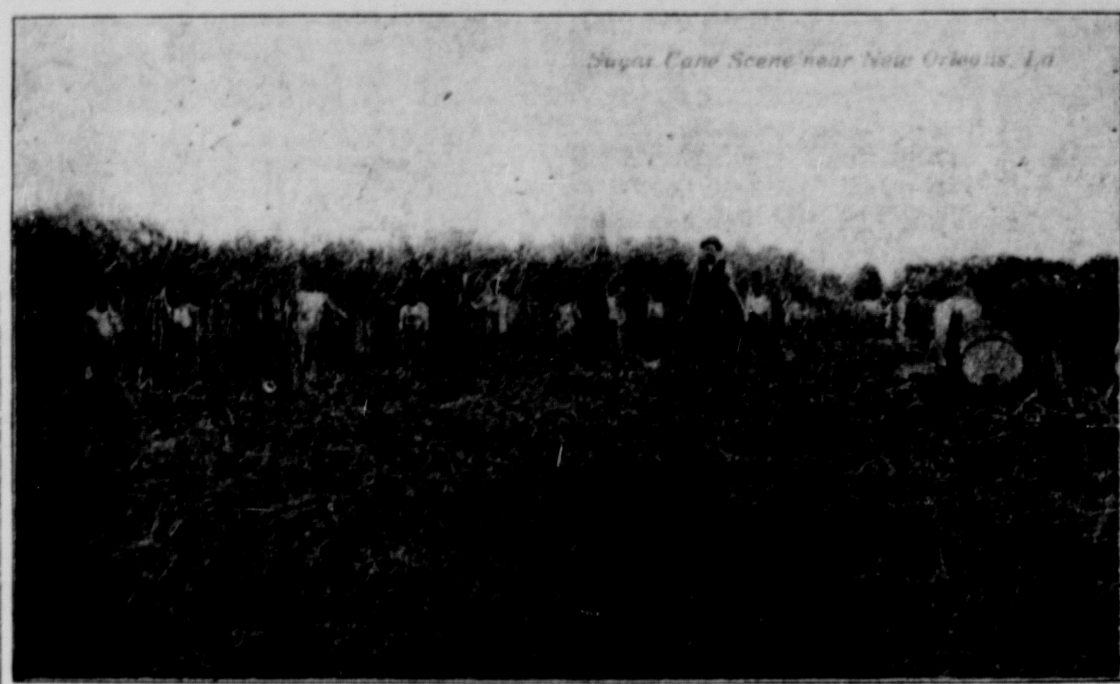

Sunlight and Vegetation.

The early rays of the sun exercise a more powerful effect in promoting rapid vegetation than the sun's light during the later hours of the day. The active little chlorophyll grains work faster and better in elaborating food for the plant under the action of the blue and yellow rays of the early morning than under the later violet and blue rays. Practical gardeners should make use of this fact by growing early produce as far as possible in a position where the plants will get the full benefit of the morning sun.—London Mail.

Is Tuberculosis Curable?

EVERY once in a while people will ask "Do you really think Consumption can be cured?" and then, when they are told that thousands of cases all over the world bear witness to the fact of the curability of this disease, they wonder why their several friends and relatives, who died with tuberculosis, were not cured.

Tuberculosis is curable, but not everyone is cured, and not everyone can be cured. The chief reason why more consumptives are not cured is because they have waited too long before they heeded the warning danger signals of the disease, or because some doctor to whom they went did not recognize this deadly plague. In its early stages, consumption can be cured, and the patient can generally resume his normal life within a period ranging from six months to two years, depending on circumstances. As high a percentage of actual recoveries from tuberculosis may be found in really early cases who follow the right course of treatment as in almost any other infectious disease.

What, then, is the right course of treatment? This article cannot prescribe for individual cases, but it can and will tell what are the essentials in taking the cure for tuberculosis.

First of all, there is a good doctor on whom you can rely and whose advice and inspiration is most valuable to you. He will not give you much medicine, because there isn't any drug or "cure" that he can prescribe that will do more than to relieve some immediate symptoms, such as constipation, cough, headache, etc. If your doctor begins to talk of a "marvelous remedy" which will cure you, it is time you looked for another physician. That man is more than likely a quack and is simply after your money. There is no sure or quick "cure" or remedy for tuberculosis that you can buy at a drugstore or that a doctor can give you.

The second essential in the cure of tuberculosis is fresh air. To the healthy person the best tonic is fresh air at work, at play, and during sleep. To the consumptive, however, air is medicine. He must take it in as large doses as he can, the more the better. It may not be easy for one who has been accustomed to indoor work to sleep and live outdoors, but since fresh air is vital, he must accustom himself to being outside all he can. At sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis, patients are out of doors on porches or elsewhere almost all the time. If one is at home, he can with a little ingenuity arrange devices for outdoor sleeping and sitting. The National Tuberculosis Association, 105 East 22nd Street, New York, will send free of charge to anyone a booklet entitled: "Directions for Living and Sleeping in the Open Air."

The next essential in the cure of tuberculosis is rest. Like fresh air, rest must be taken as a medicine by the consumptive. The reason for rest is evident, when you stop to think the way the germs of tuberculosis work. As they destroy the tissues of the lungs or other parts of the body, they make a wound or a cavity. This wound, like a cut on your finger, will not heal if it is being opened all the time. To keep the lungs as quiet as possible, rest in bed, or in a reclining chair is absolutely necessary. The dose of rest you take will depend on your doctor's advice. He will tell you when you can get out of bed and when you can exercise and how much. But first and foremost you must learn to rest, in order to give the lungs a chance to heal.

Besides a good doctor, fresh air and rest, the cure for tuberculosis requires good, wholesome food. In normal health, food of the right kind is very necessary, but in tuberculosis it is doubly important. Food is the fuel which heats the body and gives it its energy or you might almost say "steam." In tuberculosis one must pay special attention to food, because he has to provide fuel not only for the ordinary functions of the body, but he must provide an additional supply to meet the waste and damage done by the germs of the disease. This doesn't mean that you must be continually stuffing yourself, for if you do that you will upset your stomach, bowels, and liver, and you will counteract all the good the food might do. Neither does it mean that you must eat just one or two kinds of food, such as milk and eggs, which some people think are a cure for tuberculosis. They are excellent foods for people who can eat and digest them readily, and every consumptive should try to acquire an appetite for them. But meat and potatoes and bread and butter and good vegetables and almost any other nourishing, wholesome food in plenty of variety are needed also. Don't rely on tid-bits and sweets, but stoke your body furnace with food-fuel that will keep it running in the best possible order. Your doctor is the best one to advise on foods.

And, finally, a last essential in the cure of tuberculosis may be summed up in these words: "Don't worry." Keep a hopeful state of mind. If you give up and say "It's no use," you will never get well, no matter how patiently you follow the other essentials of a cure. Getting well depends for the most part on you. Backbone, hopefulness and courage will do more for you than all the doctors in the world.

Just a word as to where to take the cure. If you can go to a sanatorium, do so. There are not enough sanatoria for everyone, however. So you may have to stay at home and fight alone. Remember, tuberculosis can be cured if you take it in time and do your part.

WORK AND THE EYES.

The widely known fact that, when using the eyes for any near work, the illumination should come from the left side rather than the right is often disregarded. Let any one who considers the matter of little importance once demonstrate to himself the difference, and he will never forget it.

Take a pencil and paper and try to write while in such a position that the light will fall from the right side. The shadow of the hand or pencil or both is thrown on the paper in such a way as partly to cover the characters one is making. This necessitates a closer viewpoint and a conscious strain on the eyes.

Now let the position of the writer be reversed so that the light falls on the work from the left side. He will notice that the shadows fall away from the work he is doing and leaves the field unobscured. In making the change he cannot help but notice the feeling of ease that immediately is experienced by the eyes.

This applies to any other kind of near work in which the fingers work under the guidance of the eyes. This fact should be remembered in planning schoolrooms, workrooms, offices and any places where steady close work is to be performed.—Journal of the American Medical Association.

Cheese Toast.

Allow as many thin slices of stale bread as will be used at the meal. For six slices allow half a cupful of grated dry cheese (not too dry). In a saucepan melt and mix together one large tablespoonful of butter, two table-spoonfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Stir in gradually one pint of hot milk, making a smooth paste. Keep hot at the side of the fire. Toast the bread nicely. Stir the cheese into the sauce and as soon as melted pour over the buttered toast. Cover a moment that it may soak; then serve.—Boston Post.

FANS WILL GET TWO DAYS OF BASEBALL

What is expected to be one of the best baseball treats of the season, is in store for the local fans Sunday and Monday. The Perkins' Campbells of Cincinnati, who played here last Sunday, have been engaged for three games; one Sunday afternoon and two Monday afternoon.

The Sunday game will start at 2:30, as usual. The first game Monday will begin at 1:15 o'clock and the second, about fifteen minutes after the finish of the first.

Pitcher Brown of the Columbus

Shullmans, has been secured to pitch Sunday's game for the Athletics, and Cottrill and Linson will probably be used in the Monday games.

Brock will pitch for the Campbells the first game Monday. Brock pitched for Avondale a week ago, when that team put it all over the Wilmington Clintons. Manager Charlie Becker of the Campbells in a letter to Manager Noon, states that the Athletics could get Brock for the Wilmington-Washington series if they liked his work. Sanford will pitch for the Campbells Sunday.

TINY HAMMERS IN STEAM.

Billions of Flying Molecules Give the Gas Its Power.

There is an old Scotch proverb that "Mony a mickle maks a muckle," which means that many little things put together make much. The power of steam is a case of this, for it can drive great boats through the water and it can tear up the greatest rocks. Yet all its power is due to the coming together of little units of power.

When we speak of steam we mean water vapor—water in the form of gas. This gas is formed under pressure and has power to expand. It is this expansive power that does the work. Afterward the gas becomes cool and condensed, so that we can see it, and that is what we call steam.

The power of the gas is due to the tiny molecules of water of which it is made. These are flying about in all directions trying to get loose and so striking against the sides of whatever hems them in. The force in one of these molecules is very tiny, for the amount of stuff in the molecules is so small. If you had a hammer smaller than you could see you could not drive a nail with it. But as there are billions of these little hammers flying about in the gas they are able to do all the work that steam does.—From "The Child's Book of Knowledge."

When our naturalization laws are revised they should make it plain that the adopted citizen owes his allegiance to the United States first, last and always.

NEGROES DID NOT CONFESS TO MURDER

By Associated Press.

Providence, R. I., September 4.—A denial that they had confessed to the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, was made to the Associated Press today by George Healin, Henry Spellman and Victor Brown, the negroes who, according to the police, had previously declared that they killed the physician at the instigation of Mrs. Mohr.

Officials in charge of the prosecution of Mrs. Mohr admitted today that their case against the woman was weak.

Confronted with the statements of the negroes, repudiating their alleged confession, Chief of Police Robbins of Barrington said this afternoon that none of the three men had signed a confession.

The only signed statement from them of which he knew, he said, was that in which Healin advanced the theory that robbery was the motive for the crime.

The denial of the negroes was made in the county jail.

"Tell the people," Healin said, "that we are absolutely innocent, and that we believe Mrs. Mohr knew nothing of this crime. We have never signed a confession.

"Dr. Mohr, to my knowledge, had been threatened by several prominent Rhode Island people. I found in his car a letter from a man, in which he said that if the doctor did not cease his attentions to his wife, he would fill him full of bullets."

Life Doesn't Wait For You.

It is one of the provoking, but interesting things about life that it will never stop a moment for admiration. No sooner do you pause to enjoy it, or philosophize over it, or poetize about it, than it is up and away, and the next time you glance around it is vanishing over the hill—with the wind in its garments and the sun in its hair. If you do not go on with life it will go on without you.—American Magazine.

FEAR OF TROUBLE SPREADING CAUSES GREAT ALARM ON BORDER

Forty Carranza Soldiers Started Trouble By Opening Fire Across Rio Grande—More Mexican Bandits Killed—Carranza Consul Claims Firing on Aeroplane Not Done by Carranza Troops but by Others Desiring to "Start Something."

By Associated Press.
Brownsville, Texas, September 4.—Seven Mexicans were killed in a battle this afternoon, between Texas rangers, on the American side, and Mexicans believed to be Carranza soldiers, on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, near Old Hidalgo, Texas.
The battle was still being waged at 2 o'clock. There are said to have been forty Mexicans in the original party. They fired across the Rio Grande this morning.
No one on the American side had been killed when the last report was received here.

Brownsville, Texas, September 4.—Forty Carranza soldiers today fired across the Rio Grande on an American ranchman named Drew, near Old Hidalgo, Texas. They also fired on a party of Texas rangers near the same place.
All available cavalry is being rushed to the scene.
Today's firing occurred at the same place where a party of Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande and looted several stores.
A correspondent with the border troops telegraphed today:
"A posse of citizens, in approaching a small native house at the Aguas Negras ranch, shot and killed two Mexicans who ran and refused to halt.
"A young daughter of a Mexican also was killed, accidentally, by a stray bullet, and her mother fatally wounded."
J. Z. Garza, Carranza consul, today declared the firing on an American aeroplane yesterday was done by enemies of Carranza, who sought to

MILLION OHIO PUPILS WILL ATTEND SCHOOL

31,000 Teachers Required to Instruct Ohio's Boys and Girls Who Will Answer Call of School Bell Next Week—95,000 High School Students in State—Annual Expenditure for Schools in Ohio Reaches $56,000,000.

By Associated Press.
Columbus, O., September 4.—Nearly a million boys and girls will mobilize in Ohio next week when school bells sound the end of the summer vacation and the beginning of a nine months' campaign against the citadel of Education.
Practically all city schools and three fourths of village and rural schools will open then. One out of every seven of the population will trudge off to the rooms where books and chalk hold sway. Ohio's army will be only a small percent of the entire school-going youth of the country, for about 19,000,000 were enrolled last year in schools of the United States.
H. B. Swygert, statistician of the state department of public instruction, estimates that 932,000 children will attend public schools in Ohio during the coming year, and 31,000 teachers will be required to instruct them. About 827,000 will be in the elementary schools, with 26,000 teachers over them, and 95,000 will be high school students, requiring 5,000 teachers. Three fourths of the teachers are women and one fourth men.
In addition to the army corps of Ohio youth who go forth to battle with books, there is a goodly-sized division of school age below 21, who are at work earning wages. For Ohio's enumerated school population this year is estimated at 1,320,000, of whom 400,000 either have been graduated from high school, or are past the ages at which schooling is compulsory—16 for girls and 15 for boys.
For each of these 1,320,000, the state government will pay to local boards of education $2 to be used in maintaining schools. That is the state's system of material encouragement of the cause of education in Ohio.
Reading, writing and arithmetic, with the addition of spelling are still the standard courses for school children, for records compiled by Statistician Swygert show 750,000 were enrolled in each of these studies last year; 450,000 took geography, 112,000 agriculture, 47,000 German, 44,000 Latin, 35,000 French, 32,000 manual training and 30,000 domestic science.
Boards of education in Ohio last year spent $26,000,000 for maintenance of public schools, nearly half of which, or $17,833,000 was for pay of teachers. There were 12,630 school buildings in operation last year, but owing to the recent centralization movement, the number this year will be less. About 1,000 are high schools and the other elementary.

GERMANS MAKE NOTABLE GAINS

Latest Success on Road to Riga and Military Experts Claim the Invaders Will Soon Intrench for the Winter—Peace Rumors Continue to Hold Center of War Stage—Great Artillery Duel Continues in West—Serbia Will Soon File Final Answer.

By Associated Press.
London, September 4.—German troops, fighting toward the Russian port of Riga, have won a notable victory in the capture of the bridgehead at Friedrichstadt, on the river Dvina about 40 miles from Riga. German army headquarters announced today.
In taking the Friedrichstadt position, the Germans captured more than 3,300 prisoners, including 37 officers.
All the forts of Grodno are now in possession of the Germans, and the Russians are retreating eastward. Germans captured six heavy guns and took 2,700 men prisoners.
Petrograd military observers believe the Germans aim to take possession of the Riga-Dvinsk railway line, capture Vilna and the fortress of Rovno, far to the south, and then entrench for the winter.
London, September 4.—In the absence of marked changes on any of the battle fronts, the English public has again turned its attention to the diplomatic situation in the near east, and to rumors of tentative efforts in the direction of peace negotiations.
It is announced officially in Nish, that the final draft of Serbia's answer to the quadruple entente's note will be presented shortly.
It is presumed here that the reply will be favorable in regard to concessions to Bulgaria, although Serbia is not expected to grant all the territory demanded in Macedonia.
Advices from Sofia indicate that unless the whole of Macedonia is ceded, there is little chance of re-establishment of the Balkan league.
It is pointed out that compliance with the program of the entente allies means actual participation in the war, while agreement to the request of the central powers implies mere friendly neutrality.
Although it has been established rather definitely that London has no part in the initiation of informal peace discussion, official circles are interested keenly in news of activity in this direction.
The Russians are fighting desperately along the Dvina, protecting the shortest road to Petrograd.
French artillery is still pounding the German trenches along the western front.

AIM TO CROSS DVINA RIVER

Capture of Grodno by the Teutons Marks the Fall of the Twelfth Russian Fortress Since the Capitulation of Warsaw—Turks Reported Short of Ammunition—Operations on Other Fronts.

London, Sept. 4.—The fortified bridgehead at Lennawada, on the Dvina river, between Friedrichstadt and Riga, has been captured by the Germans. So states the official report issued at Berlin. This is considered for the Russians the most critical point on their whole front, for should the Germans succeed in crossing the Dvina, the Russians would be compelled to evacuate Riga, and their position between the Dvina and Vilna and even southwest of the latter city, would be jeopardized.

Military critics here believe that the Russians will make a stubborn defense on the Dvina, the opinion being expressed that should they fall here the German fleet would gain command of the Gulf of Riga and by landing troops at Pernau would considerably shorten the protracted march to Petrograd, which is understood to be the ultimate object of the German higher command.

page to Ambassador Page at London instructing him to renew at the foreign office his request for specific information as to conditions under which the British authorities will permit deliveries of goods of German origin now lying on the docks at Rotterdam and other neutral ports. This is the second message of this character sent to Ambassador Page within a short time, his first appeal to the British foreign office having brought no satisfactory response.

The specific point about which the state department is now seeking information of Great Britain is as to how the application of American importers for releases for goods should be presented. It is desired to learn particularly whether the British embassy will receive such applications presented through the unofficial aid of the foreign trade advisers of the state department.

CONTROL OF LOANS PLANNED

New Regulations Issued Concerning Commodity Paper.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The federal reserve board disclosed an extraordinary scheme for controlling the loans from the $30,000,000 of government deposits in gold which Secretary McAdoo has announced he will place in the federal reserve banks of the south to assure adequate credits for the cotton planters.

The board's plan is embodied in new regulations regarding "commodity paper" and trade acceptances, which admit the two kinds of paper to rediscount by the federal reserve banks at lower rates of interest with the waiver of certain specific requirements which are applicable to transactions in any other sort of paper. The term "commodity paper" plan is so defined by the new regulations as to apply to warehouse receipts for cotton. The new regulations exclude from the definition paper on which the rate of interest or discount, including commission charged the original maker, exceeds 6 per cent.

The $30,000,000 will be deposited in three federal reserve banks, located at Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas.

AT THE FAIR

Columbus, Sept. 4.—With an attendance almost 50 per cent greater than last year, the cash gate receipts for the 1915 state fair, so far as these come from admissions to the grounds, are less than they were in 1914, according to preliminary figures prepared by I. S. Myers, treasurer of the state board of agriculture. The gate receipts this year were $48,624.75. Mr. Myers explains the difference by saying that an unusually large number of persons went to the fair grounds in the evening this year. After 5 o'clock admission was only 25 cents, thus cutting the receipts in half. To the gate receipts given above must be added receipts from grand stand and concessions, which have not been compiled.

PROSPECT FOR PEACE IS WANING

London, Sept. 4.—From authoritative sources in the British government it is learned that there is no change in the attitude of the government on the question of peace.

Arms were taken up by Great Britain, it is explained, for the purely definite purpose defined by Premier Asquith on Nov. 9, and no change has been made in the British policy. To prevent misconception it must be definitely understood that Great Britain will not entertain any idea of a separate peace, and that anything which she does in the direction of peace must be done in concert with her allies, with whom the reciprocal confidence is growing stronger every day.

The statement issued by the German embassy in Washington to the effect that Germany is ready to make peace on the terms of freedom for Poland, freedom of the seas and freedom of the Jews sounds peculiar in British ears. Nothing is said about the freedom of France and Belgium.

The reports spread by Germany regarding the possibility of a separate peace with Russia has only added to the determination of the Russian people to fight until the enemy is defeated.

POPE OFFERS PRES. WILSON CHURCH HELP

Rome, Sept. 4.—Pope Benedict has indicated that if President Wilson will undertake the task of ending the great war he will have the support of the pontiff and the whole Catholic church. The pope expressed pleasure over the fact that the diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Germany had resulted in a promise from Germany to modify her submarine warfare. The pontiff said that President Wilson, having shown both groups of belligerents the fairness of the American government, could now address them with authority and probably induce them to take the preliminary steps which would gradually lead to negotiations for peace.

The pontiff was gratified to learn of the cordiality that marked the conversation between President Wilson and Cardinal Gibbons when the cardinal delivered to the president in Washington a message from Benedict XV. dealing with peace.

His holiness said he hoped everybody, both in Europe and the United States, would be convinced that his constant prayer is for the ending of the war and that his work in this direction is entirely disinterested, being inspired only by the teachings of Christ and his love for humanity.

BOND FURNISHED

Columbus, Sept. 4.—John Hornung, former cashier of the Dresden National bank at Dresden, O., and who was captured at Indianapolis, was released on bond of $12,500. Hornung is alleged to have defaulted with $50,000 to $80,000 of the bank's assets. It is said he told Indianapolis officials that he lost the money by speculating in western oil stocks. He was instructed by Judge Sater to appear in court Dec. 7, when the federal grand jury convenes. Hornung and his wife left here for Dresden.

EIGHT HOURS MAKE A DAY

New York, Sept. 4.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced its intention to adopt the eight hour day in all its plants beginning Sept. 15. Twenty-five thousand employees will be affected by the change. The grant is more than the workers demanded during the July strike at Bayonne. Shortly after the end of the strike the company raised the wages of 7,000 of its men up to 10 per cent, and on the same day the Tidewater Oil company raised its wages 5 to 15 per cent.

WHAT FAYETTE EQUINES ACCOMPLISHED AT FAIR

Throughout the State Fair Fayette county had her winnings and was even called upon to furnish the talent which carried to remarkably successful completion the first evening horse show inaugurated by the management.

It was the biggest horse show in point of attendance ever held in the United States. Eleven thousand tickets were sold at one session and gates had to be locked to keep out the crowd.

And it was freely admitted that much of the success of the show, especially in the smoothness and rapidity with which events moved off was due to the Horse Show Superintendent, Mr. Howard C. Allen, of this city.

Mr. Allen was engaged as superintendent for the 1916 show immediately at the close of the 1915 one.

and plans are already on foot to make the next year's show an affair of national interest, with entries from leading stables all over the country.

Winners in Futurity.

The Eastern Futurity Percheron horse exhibit of Thursday was the feature of the whole draft show—experienced horsemen pronounced it the most wonderful display of the kind they had ever seen in the East and it was an especially high honor to win any position among its 41 exceptional entries.

Hence it was doubly gratifying to Fayette that James Brothers, of Jeffersonville, with Ornate, their splendid yearling Percheron colt, and string of seven Percherons, were in the winning division and placed sixth in the final lineup.

Prof. Marshall Willis, of Washington, D. C., did the judging.

FINDS MOTHER WHOM HE BELIEVED DEAD

William Sheplman of Paint township is back from a short visit to Chillicothe where he visited his mother whom, for the past 32 years he believed dead.

At the age of eight years Mr. Sheplman was left in other hands when his father and mother separated, and as the years drifted by and no word came from his parents, he gradually became possessed of the belief that both were dead.

A short time ago he learned that his mother was living at Chillicothe and he went down at once to call upon her. From his mother he learned that his father also is living. Mr. Sheplman is 40 years of age.

NEW COUNTY TREASURER TAKES OFFICE MONDAY

familiarized himself during his four years as assistant treasurer. While in the treasurer's office Mr. Duff has proven a most popular official, and one who numbers his friends by the thousands. He was elected on the Republican ticket, by a large majority.

Always courteous and ready to oblige in any way possible, and yet firm in the discharge of his official duties, a very successful term is predicted for the new treasurer-to-be.

While Mr. Duff will check in Monday, he will not assume active charge of the office until Tuesday, Monday being a national holiday.

St. Charles, Ill. Mr. Crane was not at home at the time, being with his show stable at the Rochester N. Y. show. The loss on buildings and contents will reach $150,000. An added element of mystery is the fact that several attempts have been made recently to start fires, and it is rumored that this may be the work of spies in retaliation for the activity in furnishing remounts for the Allies, displayed by Mr. Crane.

Mr. Crane will be remembered as having attended the last spring's Horse Show at this place, where he drove the tandem of Miss Jane Merkle. He also purchased several horses in the sale following.

LOCAL INTEREST IN BIG SHOW

Mr. Howard C. Allen left Saturday evening for Detroit, Mich., to represent The Detroit Free Press; The Breeders' Gazette; Rider and Driver (New York); The Spur (New York); and The Chronicle, (Lexington Ky.) at the second Michigan State Fair.

Mr. Allen will take care of the press work of both the show classes and the horse show for all of these papers and also act as judge of the Hackney Breeding classes.

All the James string of Percherons and the Hagler prize winning Belgians will be shown in this show, in charge of Mr. Fred James. Mr. Tom James and Mr. Roy Hagler also expect to attend the fair.

In the horse show, Pocklington Protector will be shown by Mitchell of Columbus.

Mr. Frank Myers of this city is now in charge of Miss Jessie Merkle's show stable, which will be well represented at the fair.

The Merkle stable now includes a number of new horses and vehicles sold at the disposal sale of the late Alfred Vanderbilt stables.

STARVED INTO GOODNESS.

Why Crime is Rare Among the Caribs of South America.

In the whole wide world there is not a class of people to be found who inflict severer punishment upon themselves than the Caribs of Central America.

Their religion, which is one of the most peculiar kind, demands self punishment for sins intentionally or unintentionally committed. The punishment takes the form of starvation and close confinement.

If the sin be in the form of a lie, no matter whether it is calculated to injure another or not, the sinner goes without either food or drink for three days, at the end of which it is believed that the offender has paid the penalty for his or her sin. Blaspheming and using bad language are punishable by absolute starvation for two days. Assault, drunkenness and other serious sins call for four days' starvation for one week, three days' starvation for the second week, two days' starvation for the third week and one day's starvation in the fourth week.

All sins are punished with starvation. For that reason crime is very low among the Caribs, who are among the best behaved and most truthful people in the world.—London Telegraph.

Fear of Premature Burial.

The fear of premature burial, which prompted the late Lord Burton to direct by his will that his heart should be removed from his body, has caused many well known men and women to order a surgical operation to be performed upon their bodies. Harriet Martineau left her doctor £10 to amputate her head, and Lady Burton directed that her heart should be pierced with a needle. The late Edmund Yates left instructions that his jugular vein should be severed, with a provision that a fee of 20 guineas should be paid for the purpose. Literary persons appear to have been particularly afraid of premature burial. Bishop Berkeley, Lord Lytton, Hans Andersen and Wilkie Collins all took measures to protect themselves from it.—Westminster Gazette.

Magazines on Warships.

If there is one danger that sailors dread more than any other it is an explosion in the powder magazine. To prevent such an occurrence a device for flooding that compartment in the least possible time is fitted to most big battleships. A pipe below the surface connects the magazine with the sea. This pipe is closed by two taps, which are connected with the deck. In case of danger it is only the work of a minute to open the taps, let the sea rush in through the pipes and flood the magazine. The water is afterward drained off by means of a gutter.—London Mail.

In Social Circles

An extremely pretty and delightful affair of Friday afternoon was that given by Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock and Mrs. Maude Howland in honor of Mrs. Fred Sprenger of Marion, Ill.

The twenty guests were confined to the special friends of Mrs. Sprenger's former residence in this city.

A profusion of asters, marigolds and hydrangeas were in graceful arrangement throughout the rooms, their beauty enjoyed by the guests as they visited over their fancy work. A dainty repast was served.

Messrs. Renick Allen and Harold Elliott were also guests.

Scarlet dahlias decked the table and an elaborate four-course dinner was served.

Mrs. C. W. Strevey assisted her son in the hospitalities.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. CLEMANS

Mrs. Clara Clark Clemans, wife of the Rev. F. M. Clemans, answered the eternal summons at her home on Washington avenue, Friday night at ten o'clock, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Clemans' death touches a large circle of family connection and friends. She was the daughter of the late Smith Chaffin—the Chaffin family having been prominently identified with the New Holland community since the early days, and Mrs. Clemans' own place, "Guyholme," being a part of an original land grant, handed down from Chaffin to Chaffin for the past hundred years. This tract of land is probably the only piece of land in Fayette county which has never been on the market.

Mrs. Clemans always retained her residence there until she moved to her bungalow in this city during the past year.

Never strong, for the past two years, Mrs. Clemans' health has been precarious, although her indomitable courage never flagged.

She possessed a remarkably bright mind and marked business ability. A great reader and having had unusual advantages in both education and travel, Mrs. Clemans developed rare conversational powers. Especially was she interested in Ohio Wesleyan University, in which university she endowed a chair in memory of her son, Guy Clark.

Dr. Welsh, president of O. W. U., comes over from Delaware Monday to conduct, with Rev. F. E. Ross, the funeral services, held Monday afternoon, at one o'clock at the residence. The interment will be made in the New Holland cemetery.

REGULAR MEETING OF COUNCIL MONDAY

Monday night of next week is the time for the regular monthly session of the city council, but it is understood the city council will meet and adjourn until later in the week, owing to Monday being Labor Day and a Legal Holiday.

MESSAGE SENT TO VERA CRUZ

Another Meeting of the Pan-American Conference Will Be Called in the Near Future to Take Up the Mexican Problem — President Wilson Commends Services of the Brazilian Minister.

Washington, Sept. 4. — Secretary Lansing has formally notified General Carranza that the signers of the appeal for peace in Mexico sent by the Pan-American conference affixed their names to the document in their official capacities as representatives of their governments. The message did not go beyond this direct answer to the inquiry made by General Carranza after he received the appeal.

State department officials said they did not know what effect, if any, the answer would have on General Carranza's reply to the appeal, which has not yet been received. It is understood that another meeting of the Pan-American conference will be called soon, but it was authoritatively stated that no date had yet been set. In the appeal sent three weeks ago it was suggested that ten days would be considered by the conference a reasonable time in which answers might be prepared by those who received it.

President Wilson sent the following telegram to the president of Brazil, commending the services rendered by the United States government by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City:

"As Senhor Don J. M. Cardoso de Oliveira, Brazilian minister to Mexico, is about to depart from the United States for Brazil, I avail myself of the occasion to express to your excellency the grateful acknowledgment of myself and the people of the United States for the friendship shown and the services rendered by your excellency's government in permitting Senhor Cardoso to take upon himself in most trying circumstances the exacting duty of representing American interests in Mexico. I cordially appreciate the efficient and whole-hearted manner in which Senhor Cardoso has served our country and I congratulate Brazil in having in her diplomatic service a representative of such eminent fitness and so agreeable a personality."

her commissioners shall reach New York and consummate negotiations looking toward the flotation of a much larger credit loan here.

There was no confirmation or denial of this report by the big men of New York's financial world. Most of them refused positively to discuss it, and the few who did, said that there was nothing in the way of an announcement that could be made at this time.

According to the report, the collateral on which this preliminary loan was issued was brought to New York in four lots and aggregated the approximate figures of the sum borrowed. Two of the shipments of collateral, totaling about $55,000,000, were brought from Great Britain to Halifax aboard British men-of-war, and shipped thence to New York with about $40,000,000 in gold within the past thirty days. The two other bundles of securities were said to have been brought here aboard the liners Adriatic and St. Paul, which reached New York.

MIDGET DEAD AT 106 YEARS

New York, Sept. 4. — Mrs. Jeanette Schwartz, 106, who weighed less than twenty-five pounds and was only two and a half feet tall, is dead at the Brooklyn Hebrew home for the aged. She was born in Germany. On May 20 her birthday anniversary was celebrated at the home by a party, at which she gave a recitation and was helped to her feet by the manager and a nurse while she did a few dance steps. Of recent years she had often awakened during the night and asked for a glass of beer.

IRONING OUT THE TROUBLE

Washington Sept. 4. — The conviction that the submarine issue with Germany is very near a complete adjustment was strengthened here with the receipt of unofficial reports from Berlin that Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will be given broad discretionary powers in dealing with the United States on this subject. Though the ambassador himself, it is understood, has not yet received his instructions, the word from Berlin is regarded as authoritative. In view of the fact that the ambassador has for a long time been in favor of conceding much if not all of the proposals of the United States as a matter of good sense if for no other reason, officials here feel that a satisfactory outcome is assured if he is given liberal authorization by Berlin in negotiating with the United States. The press dispatches from Berlin seem, in the opinion of close observers here, to indicate clearly that the Berlin government has undergone a complete change of attitude on the submarine question.

SEEK FRAUDS IN PETITIONS

Columbus, Sept. 4. — Validity of every signature on the referendum petition filed with the secretary of state against the McDermott liquor license law will have been determined before the proposition is submitted to the voters in November. This course was decided upon by Governor Willis, to ascertain whether or not there has been fraud practiced, as was proven in the 1913 referendums. The petitions were sent back to the local county election boards. They will be verified. This is required by a law enacted last spring.

BLANK BALLOTS IN THIS TOWN

St. Marys, O., Sept. 4. — Voters in the village of Fort Laramie failed to respond to a fire alarm, sounded for the purpose of assembling a mass convention to name a ticket for mayor and other village officers. The time for making nominations having expired, voters will be compelled to write the names of whomsoever they please on the blank ballots on election day.

RECOVER BODY OF ONE OHIOAN

Honolulu, Sept. 4. — Ten more bodies were found in the hull of the United States submarine F-4. They were crowded together in the engine room, where a hole was cut through the steel plates to effect an entrance. One body was identified as that of Ivan L. Mahan, machinist's mate, of Lima, O.

FIRST WIFE DEAD

Baltimore, Sept. 4. — That the first wife of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, murdered near Providence, R. I., was a Baltimore woman and that she is now dead, was asserted by Mrs. C. Manning Mohr, wife of the slain physician's son. Young Mrs. Mohr said the maiden name of the first Mrs. Mohr was Josephine L. Hastry. She was a Baltimore girl, while the doctor hailed from Burk county, Pennsylvania. They were married here in 1890.

British Transport Sunk?

Berlin, Sept. 4. — A telegram from Sofia states that a British transport struck a mine off the entrance to the Dardanelles and sank with 320 officers, 1,250 soldiers and 300 members of the crew all of whom were drowned. Six hundred bodies were recovered.

Sunlight and Vegetation.

The early rays of the sun exercise a more powerful effect in promoting rapid vegetation than the sun's light during the later hours of the day. The active little chlorophyll grains work faster and better in elaborating food for the plant under the action of the blue and yellow rays of the early morning than under the later violet and blue rays. Practical gardeners should make use of this fact by growing early produce as far as possible in a position where the plants will get the full benefit of the morning sun. — London Mail.

Is Tuberculosis Curable?

EVERY once in a while people will ask "Do you really think Consumption can be cured?" and then, when they are told that thousands of cases all over the world bear witness to the fact of the curability of this disease, they wonder why their several friends and relatives, who died with tuberculosis, were not cured.

Tuberculosis is curable, but not everyone is cured, and not everyone can be cured. The chief reason why more consumptives are not cured is because they have waited too long before they heeded the warning danger signals of the disease, or because some doctor to whom they went did not recognize this deadly plague. In its early stages, consumption can be cured, and the patient can generally resume his normal life within a period ranging from six months to two years, depending on circumstances. As high a percentage of actual recoveries from tuberculosis may be found in really early cases who follow the right course of treatment as in almost any other infectious disease.

What, then, is the right course of treatment? This article cannot prescribe for individual cases, but it can and will tell what are the essentials in taking the cure for tuberculosis.

First of all, there is a good doctor on whom you can rely and whose advice and inspiration is most valuable to you. He will not give you much medicine, because there isn't any drug or "cure" that he can prescribe that will do more than to relieve some immediate symptoms, such as constipation, cough, headache, etc. If your doctor begins to talk of a "marvelous remedy" which will cure you, it is time you looked for another physician. That man is more than likely a quack and is simply after your money. There is no sure or quick "cure" or remedy for tuberculosis that you can buy at a drugstore or that a doctor can give you.

The second essential in the cure of tuberculosis is fresh air. To the healthy person the best tonic is fresh air at work, at play, and during sleep. To the consumptive, however, air is medicine. He must take it in as large doses as he can, the more the better. It may not be easy for one who has been accustomed to indoor work to sleep and live outdoors, but since fresh air is vital, he must accustom himself to being outside all he can. At sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis, patients are out of doors on porches or elsewhere almost all the time. If one is at home, he can with a little ingenuity arrange devices for outdoor sleeping and sitting. The National Tuberculosis Association, 105 East 22nd Street, New York, will send free of charge to anyone a booklet entitled: "Directions for Living and Sleeping in the Open Air."

The next essential in the cure of tuberculosis is rest. Like fresh air, rest must be taken as a medicine by the consumptive. The reason for rest is evident, when you stop to think the way the germs of tuberculosis work. As they destroy the tissues of the lungs or other parts of the body, they make a wound or a cavity. This wound, like a cut on your finger, will not heal if it is being opened all the time. To keep the lungs as quiet as possible, rest in bed, or in a reclining chair is absolutely necessary. The dose of rest you take will depend on your doctor's advice. He will tell you when you can get out of bed and when you can exercise and how much. But first and foremost you must learn to rest, in order to give the lungs a chance to heal.

Besides a good doctor, fresh air and rest, the cure for tuberculosis requires good, wholesome food. In normal health, food of the right kind is very necessary, but in tuberculosis it is doubly important. Food is the fuel which heats the body and gives it its energy or you might almost say "steam." In tuberculosis one must pay special attention to food, because he has to provide fuel not only for the ordinary functions of the body, but he must provide an additional supply to meet the waste and damage done by the germs of the disease. This doesn't mean that you must be continually stuffing yourself, for if you do that you will upset your stomach, bowels, and liver, and you will counteract all the good the food might do. Neither does it mean that you must eat just one or two kinds of food, such as milk and eggs, which some people think are a cure for tuberculosis. They are excellent foods for people who can eat and digest them readily, and every consumptive should try to acquire an appetite for them. But meat and potatoes and bread and butter and good vegetables and almost any other nourishing, wholesome food in plenty of variety are needed also. Don't rely on tid-bits and sweets, but stoke your body furnace with food-fuel that will keep it running in the best possible order. Your doctor is the best one to advise on foods.

And, finally, a last essential in the cure of tuberculosis may be summed up in these words: "Don't worry." Keep a hopeful state of mind. If you give up and say "It's no use," you will never get well, no matter how patiently you follow the other essentials of a cure. Getting well depends for the most part on you. Backbone, hopefulness and courage will do more for you than all the doctors in the world.

Just a word as to where to take the cure. If you can go to a sanatorium, do so. There are not enough sanatoria for everyone, however. So you may have to stay at home and fight alone. Remember, tuberculosis can be cured if you take it in time and do your part.

WORK AND THE EYES.

The widely known fact that, when using the eyes for any near work, the illumination should come from the left side rather than the right is often disregarded. Let any one who considers the matter of little importance once demonstrate to himself the difference, and he will never forget it.

Take a pencil and paper and try to write while in such a position that the light will fall from the right side. The shadow of the hand or pencil or both is thrown on the paper in such a way as partly to cover the characters one is making. This necessitates a closer viewpoint and a conscious strain on the eyes.

Now let the position of the writer be reversed so that the light falls on the work from the left side. He will notice that the shadows fall away from the work he is doing and leaves the field unobscured. In making the change he cannot help but notice the feeling of ease that immediately is experienced by the eyes.

This applies to any other kind of near work in which the fingers work under the guidance of the eyes. This fact should be remembered in planning schoolrooms, workrooms, offices and any places where steady close work is to be performed. — Journal of the American Medical Association.

Cheese Toast.

Allow as many thin slices of stale bread as will be used at the meal. For six slices allow half a cupful of grated dry cheese (not too dry). In a sauce pan melt and mix together one large tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Stir in gradually one pint of hot milk, making a smooth paste. Keep hot at the side of the fire. Toast the bread nicely. Stir the cheese into the sauce and as soon as melted pour over the buttered toast. Cover a moment that it may soak; then serve. — Boston Post.

GODOWSKI IS MISSING

New York, Sept. 4. — Leopold Godowski, the Polish pianist of international fame, has been missing from his home at Avon, N. J., since Wednesday. Fearful that he may have fallen a victim of thugs, Mme. Godowski, his wife, asked the police to search for him. He had $1,000 in cash and hundreds of dollars' worth of jewelry in his possession when he disappeared. The famous composer's movements after he left his family at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning have been traced up to 6 in the evening. At that hour he was hurrying to catch a train home, but whatever evil befell him overtook him before he had time to reach the station.

COX'S GARAGE—S. Fayette Street

FANS WILL GET TWO DAYS OF BASEBALL

What is expected to be one of the best baseball treats of the season, is in store for the local fans Sunday and Monday. The Perkins' Campbells of Cincinnati, who played here last Sunday, have been engaged for three games; one Sunday afternoon and two Monday afternoon.

The Sunday game will start at 2:30, as usual. The first game Monday will begin at 1:15 o'clock and the second, about fifteen minutes after the finish of the first.

Pitcher Brown of the Columbus

Shullmans, has been secured to pitch Sunday's game for the Athletics, and Cottrill and Linson will probably be used in the Monday games.

Brook will pitch for the Campbells the first game Monday. Brock pitched for Avondale a week ago, when that team put it all over the Wilmington Clintons. Manager Charlie Becker of the Campbells in a letter to Manager Noon, states that the Athletics could get Brock for the Wilmington-Washington series if they liked his work. Sanford will pitch for the Campbells Sunday.

WILL BEGIN WORK OF LAYING ASPHALT

The first of the coming week will witness the laying of asphalt on East Court street, and just as quickly as the work is completed on East Court similar work will be taken up on East street, so that within a very short time both streets may be thrown open to traffic.

The work of applying the asphalt on Court street will require but a few days of time, and it is planned to do the work on both streets without allowing interruption.

On East street more than one half of the concrete base has been poured and this work is continuing rapidly in order to be ready for the asphalt.

On West Court street the work of pouring the concrete base will begin Monday or Tuesday, and the street will be completed before cold weather.

Washington avenue is entirely finished.

TINY HAMMERS IN STEAM.

Billions of Flying Molecules Give the Gas Its Power.

There is an old Scotch proverb that "Many a mickle makes a muckle," which means that many little things put together make much. The power of steam is a case of this, for it can drive great boats through the water and it can tear up the greatest rocks. Yet all its power is due to the coming together of little units of power.

When we speak of steam we mean water vapor—water in the form of gas. This gas is formed under pressure and has power to expand. It is this expansive power that does the work. Afterward the gas becomes cool and condensed, so that we can see it, and that is what we call steam.

The power of the gas is due to the tiny molecules of water of which it is made. These are flying about in all directions trying to get loose and so striking against the sides of whatever holds them in. The force in one of these molecules is very tiny, for the amount of stuff in the molecules is so small. If you had a hammer smaller than you could see you could not drive a nail with it. But as there are billions of these little hammers flying about in the gas they are able to do all the work that steam does.—From "The Child's Book of Knowledge."

When our naturalization laws are revised they should make it plain that the adopted citizen owes his allegiance to the United States first, last and always.

NEGROES DID NOT CONFESS TO MURDER

By Associated Press.

Providence, R. I., September 4.—A denial that they had confessed to the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, was made to the Associated Press today by George Healin, Henry Spellman and Victor Brown, the negroes who, according to the police, had previously declared that they killed the physician at the instigation of Mrs. Mohr.

Officials in charge of the prosecution of Mrs. Mohr admitted today that their case against the woman was weak.

Confronted with the statements of the negroes, repudiating their alleged confession, Chief of Police Robbins of Barrington said this afternoon that none of the three men had signed a confession.

The only signed statement from them of which he knew, he said, was that in which Healin advanced the theory that robbery was the motive for the crime.

The denial of the negroes was made in the county jail.

"Tell the people," Healin said, "that we are absolutely innocent, and that we believe Mrs. Mohr knew nothing of this crime. We have never signed a confession.

"Dr. Mohr, to my knowledge, had been threatened by several prominent Rhode Island people. I found in his car a letter from a man, in which he said that if the doctor did not cease his attentions to his wife, he would fill him full of bullets."

Life Doesn't Wait For You.

It is one of the provoking, but interesting things about life that it will never stop a moment for admiration. No sooner do you pause to enjoy it, or philosophize over it, or poetize about it, than it is up and away, and the next time you glance around it is vanishing over the hill—with the wind in its garments and the sun in its hair. If you do not go on with life it will go on without you.—American Magazine.

"I wouldn't marry the best man on earth," said Belle scornfully to her dearest friend.

"I guess you wouldn't," said Chire happily. "He has promised me that he'll never marry again, even if I should die."—Ladies' Home Journal.
